

Neil La Croix profile

I'm Neil La Croix, I'm head of supply chain at Green & Black's, it's actually a really good job. I'm responsible for finding and sourcing all the organic ingredients that go into our chocolate, because we're so specific about what goes into our chocolate, because we're so specific about the quality and taste of the ingredients we actually end up sourcing from many far flung destinations around the world. I go to Belize for cocoa, Italy for almonds and to Eastern Europe looking for very specific sour cherries.

(Looking at cocoa beans)

Yep excellent, that's what we're looking for'

I also manage the manufacturers as well who actually make our fantastic product so I again go to Italy and other exotic locations.

My favourite bar, is our cherry bar, with dark chocolate and sour cherries. I really like the contrast in the flavour and I also partly like it because I know the efforts we went to to find the cherries, so I appreciate it even more
